Limited service
Measures taken due to the outbreak of Coronavirus and Covid-19

In the library
We are open weekdays 10-12. Check out books on our self-service computer opposite the information desk inside the library (you need to bring your LU card!), and return your books in the red box outside the library. You can copy, scan, and print at our copying machine. Please keep your distance to others in the library.

We have temporarily closed the study environments but are open to employees and students from the Department of Geology and the Department of Physical Geography and Ecosystem Science, your LU-card gives you extended After hours, see the Geolibrary’s homepage for more information.

Take care of each other and keep the distance 1,5 m from others, don’t sit or stand close together. Leave a safe space in the study environments on the ground floor and upstairs. We have a small meeting room for groups, 3 persons, for students at the Department of Geology and students from the Department of Physical Geography and Ecosystem Science. In our computer lab, 4 persons at the same time are allowed. Unless social distancing is secured and maintained, we will close the study environments and keep them closed until further notice.

Our opening hours can be changed at short notice due to the Corona-situation. Please see our homepage before you come to the library.

Interlibrary loans. At the moment very few inter library loan requests can be made from libraries outside Sweden.

Loan period, overdue fees, and requested books. No overdue fees will be generated as from Thursday 19 March and until further notice. Course books can now be renewed automatically 11 times, if there is no reservation. This is a temporary extension. Loan periods are still normal, and reminders are sent as usual.

If you can’t come to the library. You can return books by ordinary mail, if no one can return them for you., address: Lunds universitet, Geobiblioteket, Sölvegatan 12, 223 62 Lund.

If you are ill, in quarantine or stuck due to travel restrictions, please return your books as soon as the circumstances allow you to.

You can send someone else to pick up your requested books for you. That person needs to bring your library card, your ID, and their own ID.

Do you have any questions or need help outside the opening hours?
You are welcome to contact us via bibliotek@geobib.lu.se
During opening hours, you can call us at ++46 46 222 3960.

We do hope that we all can return to life to what we think of as normal as soon as possible!
